

TRIAL OF FALL AND DOHENY IN OIL CASE OPENS TODAY

Ex-Cabinet Officer and Millionaire Face Jury on Accusation of Fraud in Elk Hills Lease

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (P)—Two old-time prospectors in the great West, now a former Cabinet officer and a multimillionaire oil man, will come to trial here tomorrow charged with conspiracy to defraud the government in naval oil reserve leases.

They are Albert B. Fall, Secretary of the Interior under Presidents Harding and Coolidge, and Edward L. Doheny, chairman of the board of the Pan American Petroleum and Transport Company. They will appear in the District of Columbia Supreme Court to answer indictments charging them with fraud and conspiracy to defraud the jury. To attempt to offset such unfavorable impressions, however, through an effort to obtain favorable publicity, they cannot think is proper under the present conditions.

FATAL SHOT ENDS HECTIC LOVE AFFAIR

Navy Officer's Widow Slain
While Seated at Dinner in San Francisco Cafe

MAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21. (P)—Mrs. Betty King, widow of Lieut. Robert King, U.S.N., came to the end of a turbulent love affair in a downtown restaurant last night when she was shot to death by George W. Barnett, an automobile salesman, who trailed her from Minneapolis, leaving a wife and daughter there. Today Barnett's life was hanging by a slender thread as a result of a bullet wound inflicted in his head after he killed Mrs. King while seated across from her at dinner.

SIXTY WITNESSES

The government has summoned more than sixty witnesses to the trial, probably will consume at least a month. Prominent among those who will be called by the prosecution's version of the affair was that Mrs. King's mother, Mrs. Anna M. Montague, who conducted the Senate Investigation; Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy when Congress passed the act permitting leases of the lands on which Fall and Doheny and Edward L. Doheny, Jr., son of the California magnate, had been engaged in negotiations with the oil companies in connection with the $100,000 lease which Doheny made to Fall during the course of the negotiations for the Elk Hills leases.

CONSPIRACY CHARGED

Since Fall also is charged with conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the famous Teapot Dome lease, but this case is before the United States Supreme Court, no trial for review of the action of the District Court of Appeals in dismissing an appeal from a lower court decision remains to quiet the case.

Sinclair also is under indictment for contempt of the Senate in refusing to answer certain questions before the Public Lands Committee during its investigation of the Senate investigation.

There will be room for only a handful of the general public in the courtroom, which will be crowded by counsel, court attaches and newspaper men.

Taking cognizance of recent newspaper reports which said he "was not a good husband," "unjust and inappropriate," Mr. Fall said in a statement tonight that he had refrained from answering these articles because he believed they were being used by the courts and not in the newspapers.

WELCOMES JURY TRIAL

"I feel very deeply," he said, "the humiliation of being compelled to appear before any jury under a charge such as 'a pending'... Never, I welcome the opportunity to have a fair and unprejudiced jury hear the evidence for the government and that which may be offered, if necessary, by the defense, and decide the issue in the case."

"For many years I practiced law and this legal training, at least in the old days, was the basis of my public life. The effect that cases should be tried in the courts and not in the newspapers. I realize very fully the power of the press and that they always want to have their stories read by the jurors who, however, find it consistent with the ideas instilled in me that I was born in America. I am not a lawyer, but I am and later practicing law to use any methods, however legal and proper, to influence the determination of a against the Cantonese. Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, commander of the Cantonese forces, now stationed at Kiangsi, 200 miles west of Shanghai, has appointed a committee of attorneys to consider and, to say the least, inappropriate at the present time as tending, in some degree, to influence adversely to the Chinese, the attitude of the American Government.

The Ottowa Government House is full of family associations. When I was quite a little child, Queen Victoria's daughter, and my aunt, Princess Louise, Marchioness of Lorne, had habited that house, and just before the war my uncle, the Duke of Connaught, had been Governor General of Canada, and I had been the son of my cousin, Princess Patricia, had been given to one of the Canadian regiments.

Princess Patricia, the Queen's

Regiment was the first, I think, of the Canadian regiments to go over to France and its losses were terrible.

I mentioned this fact in the speech I made at a big luncheon given me in a magnificent hotel, the Chateau Laurier, by the Woman's Club of Ottawa, which included my wife, took me and my daughter, whilst my son lunched at Government House.

As everywhere, both in America and Canada, I was struck by the beauty and magnificence of the buildings, for instance, the Chateau Laurier, where this lunch was given did not look at all like a hotel but something without a doubt just as grand as could be found in England or France. It was built all in gray stone and the Parliament buildings are in much the same style.

After a short but very comforting talk with Chiang Kai-shek, I suddenly looked over in every way by Lady Willingdon. I had to set out again about 8 o'clock to a colossal reception at the Parliament building, where I met the Speaker, J. Lemieux, with whom I spoke French.

There was a long presentation of all the important people of Ottawa, and we were about 700 we did not shake hands.

CHILDREN A JOY

My children behaved very well on these long and very formal occasions, seconding me bravely in my official work, which cannot, after all, be so very unusual for young people to do.

There was a long presentation of all the important people of Ottawa, and we were about 700 we did not shake hands.

AMERICANS ROBBED

HANKOW, Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—(Continued) Attached to the eightie Cantonese steamship, the Japanese-bound Japanese steamer 150 miles above Hankow, carrying off the captain as a hostage and robbing two passengers, including three Americans, $10,000. Japanese troops were dispatched to rescue the captain, with the American pilot Phillips standing near by.

The steamer encountered fire from two troops between 100 and 200 feet striking the boat. Believing it was a searching party, which in company with Yangtze vessels, the captain stopped, whereupon twenty sailors stopped him, demanded $15,000. The captain being unable to produce this full amount, all the passengers were ordered to hand cash they had.

The situation at Hankow is steadily growing worse owing to labor excesses. Following the imprisonment of two Americans, John Gilliam and George C. Coulter, by British cigarette company for four hours, the captain of the foreign commissioner by strike pickets, almost necessitating the arrival of an armed force, further strikes against all foreigners were ordered.

All the household servants and officers employed by the British cigarette company for four hours, the captain of the foreign commissioner by strike pickets, almost necessitating the arrival of an armed force, further strikes against all foreigners were ordered.

Lord Willingdon is not an insular man—his heart—he said—goes much—so like to hear the other man's side of the question and has an unbiased ear. M. Dandurand, my friend of yesterday, was also there, and we exchanged a few words across the table, pleased to meet for the second time.

Here, as everywhere, most pleasant people were presented to me, but as we do not belong to those whose profession it is to give daily reports, and if I write these modest articles, it is because from all sides I have been asked to do so.

I trust to understand how impossible it would be to receive the principal, I trust, of my dear wife, and other member of the party, drop on the pretext that he or she has work to do.

I simply must be there on the spot as well as can. There is a delightful atmosphere about the place, I am mixed with a rise judgment of things about her that far beyond her age. She always sticks to her own view and is a particularly patriotic, happy and happy if my articles are not what you Americans call up to date.

I hope you will be interested in my article.

I honestly believe you could get no other queen or perhaps even woman to be as good as Queen Marie.

She has been given a great deal of sleep, and I am sure she is recovering.

She is a good Queen.

Senator-Investigator Digs Into Newest Case

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 21. (AP)—Senator James A. Reed, Democrat, Missouri, who has directed investigations of Senatorial campaign fund expenditures in Pennsylvania, Illinois, Indiana and other States, tomorrow will deliver to charges that the Democratic organization of his home town used a slush fund in the election of the two U.S. senators.

As chairman of the Senate Campaign Funds Investigating Committee, Senator Reed has summoned H. R. Walmsley of Kansas City, a publican and former member of the

PEACE DEFEATS WAR HERO

Victoria Cross Winner Admits Failure to Make Living Due to Rum Ring's Hospitality

MONTREAL (Que.) Nov. 21. (AP)—Michael O'Leary, V.C., the first man in the great war to win the Victoria Cross, greatest British distinction for bravery, has shaken the dust of the New World from his feet and sailed back to England, defeated in his attempt to make a success of life here.

Misfortune has dogged the war-hero advertising exploits," he said, "but his efforts to make a living and support a wife and family. Arriving in Canada in 1921 he obtained a position in a Toronto publishing house which later became insolvent. He became an enforcement officer under the Ontario Temperance Act at $125 a month. His troubles grew. He claims he was too honest to please the leaders of the bootleggers rings which operate on the international border between Ontario and the United States. They swore to capture my V.C."

"They used me and that is why I am leaving Canada. I have no family to look after and can not afford to bathe any longer at present. I have had opportunities to lend my name to ago."

Missouri Legislature to appear and testify regarding any knowledge he may have of graft that between $250,000 and $750,000 was paid into the local Democratic campaign fund by the Kansas City Street Railway Company.

INQUIRY RESULTS Walmsley precipitated the hearing by writing to Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, and asking for an inquiry into reports of illegal irregularities on the election here.

Upon learning of Walmsley's action, Senator Reed ordered the former legislator to appear before him Monday morning. Walmsley announced he would comply, although he said he could give no specific information. The hearing will be in Senator Reed's office here.

Republican and Democratic leaders expressed ignorance of the charges. Republican party chiefs indicated that Walmsley had acted without the knowledge of the county Republians.

Walmsley upon being notified of the summons, declared he had made no direct charges and could give no information. He added, "Fraud was apparent on the face of the returns and common gossip was that money was used."

In his letter to Senator Norris, which was turned over to Senator McNamara of the Campaign Funds Committee in Washington and its contents subsequently telephoned to Senator Reed here, Walmsley declared that the street railways gave the Democratic campaign fund for use on election day here between $250,000 and $750,000.

FRANCHISE EXTENDED Walmsley coupled the alleged irregularities in part with the victory of Major B. Hawes, Democrat, over Senator George W. Wood, Republican, in the Missouri Senatorial race.

As the charges reached Senator Reed, the street railways company was asked to contribute to the Democrats in return for a waiver of the extension of its franchise. Shortly before the election the Democratic majority of the City Council voted to extend the franchise and the action was seconded by Reed, a campaign speaker, who condemns the extension.

British Miners Decide for Settlements by Districts; Nation to Control

LONDON, Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—Now that the British coal strike is virtually ended by the decision of the miners' delegates to allow districts, as opposed to national settlements, British industry is preparing for a boom. It is expected that all the miners will be back at work before long, though many of them will be available almost immediately.

The strike lasted since May 1, last, and has done surprisingly little damage to industry, though it has taken away employment. Many contracts, of course, are held over, but essential work was executed with coal stocks and imported coal is estimated by experts that the coal owners made millions out of the strike, clearing off old stocks and much worthless coal at high prices, and they are now assured of at least a year of high prices with little risk.

It is understood the government will proceed with legislation to protect the coal miners from undue exploitation after their defeat and with plans for a reorganization of the coal industry, placing it under strict national control, thus preventing future disastrous strikes.

Duck Shooters Drown as Lake Ice Gives Way

CHICAGO, Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—Two hunters owing to thawing ice in Lake Calumet near here for a duck one had shot, plunged to their deaths today when the ice gave way.

Witnesses who saw the men, who were about two feet apart, said the ice was very thin and the men in heavy boots, were unable to aid them.

One was recovered a few hours afterward by squads of police and a few from the South Chicago Coast Guard station. The body was eventually identified as that of Walter Grenfell, by a hunting license found in the clothes. Searches postponed the hunt for the other body tonight.

"You father would hate her. You see, at first I was so dazed that I was struck sensible. I felt a sudden inspiration to avoid the womanly thing and do the sensible."

"Lord, what a privilege! I didn't scream or faint or scratch or call names. I just happened to remember that I had a coat closet in my room."

"She tried to escape, but I beat her to the door; then I beat her to the floor. Harry made ready to rush me, but I rushed him first and wrestled him over a chair. He whacked his head on the floor, stuck into me, I lay him into a coat closet by the heels, locked him in and took the key; helped him pack, telephoned and got him home."

"I didn't tell anyone about it all."

"But I know you hate him."

"I did, but I don't any more."

"Not guilty? I caught them together."

WAR ON ANTS TO CONTINUE

Pasadena Official Completing City Survey

To Request Aid of Federal Authorities

No Mode of Extermination Yet Discovered

PASADENA, Nov. 21.—The municipal building department's survey of the city, made for the purpose of determining the exact extent of damage to buildings here caused by the activities of white ants, or termites, will be completed by the end of this month, and the city will determine definitely what method of extermination of the destructive insects is cheapest.

When Building Superintendent Walter Putnam makes his report to the Board of City Directors, it is expected that he will be called upon by the United States Department of Agriculture to send an entomologist to Pasadena to give counsel as to the best course to be adopted.

The Federal government has been conducting exhaustive surveys of ant extermination in the Canal Zone, where the insects attack all buildings, especially those of wood.

In Hawaii, the Philippines, New Orleans and other localities Supt. Putnam has been in communication with those experts and with the engineers of the University of California, as well as with other municipal building heads in Southern California and other parts of the country.

In view of the increased effort, no remedy has been found so far which has a lasting effect, and in places where the insects are more active than here, the government has adopted the practice of marking periodical inspections and evicting the ants before they have had a chance to make much headway in a particular building. Putnam believes that Pasadena should adopt this practice.

Close inspection here has revealed considerable local damage caused by the termite which was first discovered in the city last summer. Whereas damage has been noted, it has been repaired immediately and no fear of actually dangerous conditions is felt. Often-repeated temporary measures appear to be the best solution discovered at present.

TO CORRECT HABITS OF CHILDREN

Clinic at Pomona College Devoted to Study of Child Psychology

OLAREMONT, Nov. 21.—Harmful habits of children are being eliminated by the work of Pomona College psychologists who have reopened the Habit Clinic which was started last year. The unusual work of the clinic is in the direction of Dr. Robert D. Williams, professor of experimental psychology, and Miss Mary Brooks Eyre, assistant professor of hygiene.

Twenty-seven children were handled by the clinic last year. Each child is given careful psychological tests and the parents of the child are interviewed by both Dr. Williams and Mrs. Eyré. In this way the department of sociology is called in to assist in the work and when medical attention is needed to eliminate a harmful habit the family physician is consulted.

Last year's clinic was successful in practically every case which was followed up by the psychologists, several interviews with the child and parents being necessary. The clinic has in many instances eliminated the causes of bad habits, many of which are due to wrong emotional conditions.

Tests, questionnaires, treatments, and personal study are used by the clinic which is handicapped by the lack of funds and facilities. The Pomona College clinic is the third of its kind to be established in California.

Interest in the work is widespread among parents, teachers and students who have been in constant demand as speakers before parents' groups. Much extension work through surveys of various schools is also being done when possible.

Rabbit Show Next Event at Anaheim

American Rabbit Show to be Staged at Anaheim

ANAHEIM, Nov. 21.—With the convention and show to be staged here December 6 to 11 by the American Rabbit and Cavy Breeders Association, but few weeks away, Anaheim is making preparations to welcome the 300 or more breeders who are expected to gather here from all parts of the United States and from Canada, for the event.

The Cassou Building corner, West Center and Whittierman streets, has been selected as the location of the headquarters and George W. Reid, secretary of the Anaheim Chamber of Commerce, is in charge of preparing the building for the show. It is to be noted that the hall to be used for the rabbit and cavy exhibits and the basement floor will be provided with chairs for use during the lecture convention sessions.

Banners are being painted to be strung up at strategic points about the city streets to advertise the event to all passers-by. For some time now, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Powers of Ontario, have been carrying on a consistent program of advertising in the leading rabbit publications of the United States and there is no record of the country that has not heard of the Anaheim and Orange County show, Mr. Reid said this morning.

Officially, however, judges are to be assured to judge the exhibits. It is expected that more than 300 rabbits will be shown in the display. Mr. and Mrs. Powers have guaranteed $1500 for the first place and awards are expected to be made for the winning classes.

WIDEN CITY STREET

Thoroughfare to Conform to San Fernando Road

GLENDALE, Nov. 21.—The portion of San Fernando Road, between the Glendale city limits and Dayton Street, Los Angeles, is to be paved to permit it to conform to the width of the road through Glendale, according to a letter received by C. E. Guglielmo, engineer of street design of the city of Los Angeles.

An ordinance will be presented to the Los Angeles City Council by a few days providing for the paving of this stretch of San Fernando Road, Guglielmo writes. The road through Glendale and Burbank, is to be paved to conform to the width of the road through Glendale, according to a letter received by C. E. Guglielmo, engineer of street design of the city of Los Angeles.

Rather than wait for the completion of the condemnation proceedings, which are not concluded, Guglielmo states the city will pave the road between Glendale city limits and Dayton Street, Los Angeles, so that it will only be necessary later to remove the sidewalk, and the present plans call for the paving in Los Angeles to be fifty-six feet with the provision, however, that the width may be later increased to conform with the rest of the highway.

Structure made public by the Fresno Clearinghouse are the following clearings for the three comparable periods. Last week, $7,102,741; preceding week, $6,467,454; same week in 1923, $1,158,904.

While the figures for the past week did not reach the record total of those of a few weeks ago they are in line with the consistent gains that have been made over last year.

The new well, however, will not be equipped to begin service until January 1, it is stated.

TEACHERS TO HOLD INSTITUTE

Instructors of Central Part of State Meet in Fresno for Annual Session

FRESNO, Nov. 21.—With nearly 200 school-teachers of Fresno, Madera and Kings counties scheduled to assemble here tomorrow for the annual institute of the central association, "Teachers to Hold Institute," C. S. Weever of Modesto is scheduled for election to the presidency, no other candidate having been nominated for the office.

Occidental and Folsom are also on the program of the institute of the Central Association of Southern California. The approach means that the colleges so recognized have reached a certain standard of scholarship so that the graduate members of the group are the most important recognition that has come to the local school.

HOUSE OF DAVID GIRDLS FOR FIGHT
Legal Ammunition Gathered to Save Purnell
Epic Battle Promised Before Prison Doors Close
Residents Doubt Leader Will Be Brought to Trial

BENTON HARBOR (Mich.) Nov. 21. (P)—A legal battle such as the criminal courts of Michigan never before have witnessed is in prospect if Benjamin Purnell, head of the House of David colony and accused as a despoiler of young womanhood, ever is brought to trial.

Purnell, self-styled "Seventh Messenger" and "Brother of the Saviour," subject of a world-wide search for more than four years to answer to warrants charging criminal assault against young girls members of his cult and the so-called "blood-purifying" rites was dragged out of the Administration Building in his colony last Wednesday morning. Under bonds of more than $170,000, Benjamin, in his signature white shirt and House, while the resources of the colony, said to run into hundreds of thousands of dollars, are being marshaled to his defense.

BENJAMIN "IMMORTAL"

There are many in Benton Harbor who say Purnell never will be brought to trial. On the contrary, they hold the belief death will clear the law. The colony members, however, have been taught to believe Benjamin is immortal and that he could never die.

When death has visited the colony the stricken one has been taken out unmourned and unsung and Benjamin has been known to say, "Death is but a disregard of his teachings." Such was the passing of Goy Furnell, son of Benjamin and Mary, the "Seventh Messenger's" wife and "Queen."

Benjamin is a native of Kentucky foothills, a wandering evangelist, nearly thirty years ago. Previously he had been a boy preacher, a brakeman, railroad-tunnel watchman and follower of an earlier "King" Benjamin.

Going to Detroit, he joined the colony of one Michael Miller or "Prince Mike" as he was known. After Prince Mike was sentenced to prison on charges involving women, Purnell moved to Benton Harbor and established his colony in 1903.

It prospered, deriving revenue from its amusement park, a baseball team of patriarchal appearance, a street-railway system and the fruits of the soil.

FOLLOWERS SUED

His followers came from far and wide, many of them well-to-do. In his first court litigation against the colony brought charges that the followers of Benjamin were obliged to turn over their property to him and that he forced them to work for their food. This was the suit of John W. Hanel, and his wife, seeking $80,000. They were awarded $25,000, and the court proceeding that charges of immorality were made against Purnell.

Several young women witnesses testified they had been summoned into Purnell's chamber by one of the older women of the colony and subjected to "blood-purifying" rites. It was also charged that Benjamin selected numerous young women members of the colony and then forbade them to live together. It was at this time that Purnell disappeared.

'RISH BRING EMERGENCY LAW IN PLAY

Action Taken Under New Safety Bill Permits Raid on Republican Organ

DUBLIN, Nov. 21. (P)—A state of national emergency has been proclaimed under the public-safety bill recently adopted by the Senate and approved by the Governor-General. The Dail Eireann has been summoned to meet Wednesday.

This state of emergency permits martial law to prevail and detain without trial individuals suspected of complicity in various offenses, such as attempts to overthrow the government, possession of arms or explosives, false assumption of military or police rank.

Acting under the proclamation, the police today raided offices of an Schoblaecher, a Republican organ, and arrested several persons. They also raided headquarters of the Republicans' Women's League and confiscated copies of anti-imperialist documents and papers relating to women's organizations.

"Puff" persons are under arrest charged with being implicated in the armed raids a few days ago on the civil bodies of various places. It was these attacks on the civil police that prompted the government to introduce the public-safety bill, leading to the national emergency.

TAX PROTESTERS DIE

Indian Peasants Charge Their Town Attacked and Burned

CALCUTTA, Nov. 21. (Exclusive)—Lord Birkenhead, Secretary of State for India, has been asked to conduct an investigation into the affairs of the Maharanah of Alwar, the peasants of whose State are charging that the Maharanah burned down a village where the villagers protested against an oppressive levy.

The peasants forward documents giving full details how the village of Nimichuan was surrounded by state troops, who fired on the peasants, killing many of them, and burned the village. Lord Birkenhead has intimated to the Maharanah, who is now in England, that he wants an explanation, declaring an investigation commission will be appointed unless the explanation is satisfactory.

HEALTH CORD ENDS.

LIFE OF YOUTH

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Nov. 21. (P)—The "exercise cord" used by Arthur Kinney, 17 years of age, to give him healthy posture, has proved fatal. His body was found in the bathroom of his home with a rubber cord around his neck. As no motive was apparent, it is believed that Kinney became tangled in his exercise apparatus and strangulation resulted.

He was employed by the Southern Pacific Company and had resided here for several years.

Oil Developments and Mining News; Stock and Bond Reports

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY

Qualitative analyses will be given in this department. Make such sample and minerals free of charge. Be sure to write a letter stating what you want to know and approximate locality from which samples were taken. Do not putterize the news. Your name and address on paper wrapped with samples.

British Columbia Sulphides
LOS ANGELES. Nov. 1. Question: Kindly analyze the inclosed mineral samples for me. The specimens were obtained up in British Columbia near Nelson, in three different claims. Do the samples represent real good ore, so that it would pay to mine it? C. R. B.

Answer: While the specimen carry good values in mineral sulphides there is some arsenic and zinc present which somewhat lower values for concentration and smelting costs. Knowing nothing whatever of the width of ledges from which the samples were taken your question as to profitable mining can not be answered.

Sample No. 1 carries two iron disulphides (pyrite and pyrrhotite). The pyrrhotite (magnetic pyrite) reacts in trichloroacetic acid. Bleelite, (magnesium silicate), Galenite (lead sulphide) and arsenopyrite are present. The three named sulphides being in rather low percentages; copper traces. No. 2 represents a lead carbonate, No. 3 also. Both samples were tested for native gold with negative results.

Olivine
ASH FORK (Ariz.) Nov. 1. Q.: Please classify this mineral specimen in your "In the Earth" column and oblige. W.

A.: The sample is known also as chrysolite of inferior color and clarity. It consists of imbedded grains and grains. In composition it is anhydrous magnesium silicate, silica, and iron pyroxene. The reddish-orange color is due to the decomposition of some of the olivine; the cores are vividly green, and the gem peridot should occur in this formation.

Muscovite
CARLTON (Utah) Nov. 1. Q.: I am mailing you a small sample of muscovite and respectfully request your opinion of it. The specimen is on the surface of ground and I think by opening it up I can get the sheets clean and transparent in sizes approximately four to two in length and width. The product of the named mine is a poor one and I still have on hand. If you desire more samples I will get them and mail same to you.

A.: Take as an illustration of a mica deposit that of the New York mine near Custer, S. D. The mica there occurs in "books" all along the ledges, in sizes from six inches in thickness down to two in length and width. The product of the named mine is controlled by the mica trust.

Your sample consists of a very thin sheet of muscovite (potash mica) partly decomposed and mixed with limonite (hydrous iron oxide). It is somewhat clouded and semi-transparent. It might be possible that the mica, or less likely, the mica could be obtained from the deposit, but the sample represents mica of very doubtful commercial value.

Free Gold Trace

INGLEWOOD, Nov. 2. Q.: I am sending you a sample of rock found in the San Bernardino Mountains. Does it contain minerals or metals of value?

A.: The specimen is quartzitic rock carrying hematite (iron peroxide) in part. Pseudomorph matter (pyrite) is present with some fine yellow microscopic pyrite and traces of microscopical pyrite (iron disulphide).

Platinum Absent

BLYTHE, Nov. 2. Q.: Can you tell me if these two samples contain platinum?

A.: The specimens react for lime carbonate, hematite (magnetite) some zinc and pyrite traces.

Boron Absent

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 2. Q.: I am sending you a sample of rock found on my recent trip through Death Valley. I have a very large deposit of No. 2. Is there lead and silver in No. 5. Does it carry borax?

A.: Sample No. 1 is selenite, a transparent and crystallized variety of gypsum of good grade. No. 2 is more or less hydrous gypsum. No. 3 is more or less hydrous magnesium silicate with magnesium silicate (flumous) gypsum present. No. 4 is lime carbonate mixed with gypsum. No. 5 is a band of iron-manganese oxide. One other sample—not numbered—is part of a nodular calcite.

Five Samples

ALHAMBRA, Nov. 3. Q.: Kindly analyze the inclosed five samples. Nos. 1, 2, 4, and 5 come from along the coast, Ventura county. No. 3 is from the mountains.

A.: Sample No. 1 is banded agate. No. 2 is calcite (lime carbonate). No. 3 is pyrite. Would it be in mixture of iron oxides with aluminum silicate. No. 4 is, practically, the same as No. 3. No. 5 is milk-white quartz mixed with little mica.

Colorado Samples

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 4. Q.: I am sending you a sample of clay found in Western Colorado. Would like to know what it is? M. L.

A.: It is a gritty (siliceous) aluminum silicate, mixed with iron sulphate prisms and a low percentage of sodium sulphate. It is on the order of talc. It is a good sample. It will shock-up with some of the mixture, allowed to settle, and the clear liquid siphoned off might be good as an application to some compositions. Should not be used as eye-water, however.

Free Gold Absent

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4. Q.: Kindly state whether or not this lot of samples represent any commercial value. It is from Big Tujunga Canyon and there is some gold at the surface. The gold is very fine and from same locality must have gone astray, as I never heard of you nor the samples until now. The white sample contains a little molybdenite. The other seventeen specimens are of iron silicates, chiefly "rosin rock" as known to the mining industry. All of the samples represent very doubtful commercial values, unless fire assays show gold present.

Two Samples

HOLTBURG, Nov. 5. Q.: The two inclosed samples are from the deserts hills of San Bernardino county. No.

PANTEPEC OIL CO.

white? Is it any commercial value? It is claimed for No. 2 that when fused with iron it gives the appearance of nickel, and will take a good cutting-edge.

A.: The whitish-gray sample is a nodular variety of iron-magnesium silicate mixed with magnesium silicate. The coating on one side of the rock is dendritic manganese in fern-like characters. The blackish rock is hornblende with pyroxene; tremolite, actinolite, and magnetite, and there is scarcely a hornblende locality in the many deposits of California that will not give the results stated by you.

Free Gold Traces

NEWHALL, Nov. 6. Q.: Please find enclosed three samples taken from the San Fernando range of mountains.

No. 1 yellow, No. 2 black, and No. 3 white. Please make analyses of contents.

A.: Sample No. 1 is iron-magnesium silicate containing a little gypsum and some arsenic. No. 2 is calcite mixed with traces of strontium. No. 3 is quartz with yellowish hydrated iron peroxide. From the twenty-five chips of mineral in this sample two microscopic colors of gold were obtained.

FUND TO END FOREST-FIRE PERIL ASKED

Chamber to Confer With Conservation Association on Program Tomorrow

Definite steps to meet and overcome the menace of forest fires will be taken tomorrow by the Chamber of Commerce and the Conservation Association, Southern California, at a joint luncheon meeting at the Chamber of Commerce main dining-room.

According to President Arthur G. Bush of the chamber, the situation is so serious that it demands immediate and concerted efforts to avert irreparable damage to the natural resources of that part of the State. It is planned to call for a Federal appropriation of at least $1,000,000, which, with funds to be supplied by the State, will be devoted to a five-year program that will put Southern California's forests beyond danger.

Southern California, the conservation group's statistics show, has approximately 1,000,000 acres of irrigated agricultural lands, valued at $1,000,000,000. Its investment in irrigated enterprises (ditches, pumps and other equipment) is more than $78,000,000. The annual production of Southern California irrigated land averages in excess of $22,460,000. These great investments and vast productive areas, the members of the subject declare, and the continued devastation of Southern California watersheds constitute the biggest single problem faced in its region.

Los Angeles gets a daily average of 70,200,000 gallons of water daily from wells, according to the records of the Los Angeles Water Conservation Commission. The lowering of the level of these wells, the inevitable result of the destruction of watersheds, has been declared by those sponsoring the meeting.

During the last session of Congress, conservation leaders pointed out that the public interest was had in the effort to arouse the government to the need for adequate financial help for this region. An emergency appropriation of $100,000 was made available for forest fire protection in Southern California, which was matched by local interests. The last State Legislature appropriated $60,000 for Los Angeles county watersheds.

Leaders of the Chamber of Commerce and of the Conservation Association have planned by every possible means to obtain $1,000,000 from the next Legislature to show the useful forestry budget, and to exert pressure in Washington for a $1,000,000 appropriation to be made a total of $2,000,000 to be expended for the protection of the forests.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt, chairman of the Forest Service organization on behalf of the Pacific Coast Forest Outdoor Recreation, has named Harold Ferguson as chairman of this State's committee. The executive work will be done by Mr. Ryerson, as vice-chairman. It is proposed to form full committees in all of the Southern California counties whose interests are affected.

MYSTERY IN NAVY DEATH STARTS QUIZ

Body of Pharmacist's Mate, Missing Ten Days, Found Floating in Water

An exhaustive investigation by harbor police and navy authorities was launched last night into the death of V. I. Spalding, second-class pharmacist's mate of the U.S.S. Relief, whose body was found floating in the main harbor channel yesterday from men from the S.S. Medina.

Spalding's death paralleled in mystery that of Ensign Julian J. McShane, attached to the U.S.S. Tennessee, whose body was recovered from beneath Pier 180, Wilmington, October 9, last, after he had disappeared from a dinner date with the Yacht Club.

Navy homicide investigators autopsy on Spalding reported his death due to drowning. All papers and articles of value were missing from his pockets when the body was recovered. Harbor police held theory that the sailor might have been robbed and thrown into the water.

Spalding had been missing for ten days and no record since his last boat had been recorded. Since the boat sailed a week ago from the harbor for Mare Island for overhaul, records concerning his home or family were not available. His body was taken to the Gorrich Underwater parlor at San Pedro. He was 28 years of age.

The death of Ensign McShane presented a mystery which added facts that he attended the dinner-dance at the yacht club on the evening of October 8.

He apparently disappeared from the ship during the return to the harbor, and later a man resembling him, who appeared to have been badly beaten and bleeding about the head, was seen on the Norton Lilly Company's dock near the Yacht Club in Gravelly Point a night watchman.

Pate said the man, resembling McShane, walked toward the edge of the dock in a confused manner and that was the last time he saw him alive.

McShane's skull was fractured and, according to Detective Lieutenant Joe Williamson who testified at the inquiry, the man had been beaten about the head.

The naval investigation closed, it was announced, when the court of inquiry declared that the death of Ensign McShane cannot be determined before the evidence before this court.

POLICE REPORT SIX ROBBERIES

Week-end Brings Theft Cases for Month to 65

Last Year's Record Broken by "Stick-up" Men

Majority of Sufferers Are Among Motorists

P. A. Taylor, 60 years of age, was found dead in his room at 638 Gladys Avenue yesterday, the victim of a hold-up man who, on Friday night, struck the elderly man over the head with a blackjack and robbed him of $10.

Detective Lieutenant Dryden, who investigated the case, said that Taylor had been beaten because it was death due to the injuries he received. Taylor apparently had been dead for several hours. The body was removed to the County Morgue and an autopsy conducted.

With a tally of six hold-ups, bandits operating Saturday night and early yesterday eclipsed the October total of 52, set by nine men and teen and broke last year's previous record to date by a margin of five.

The official report of Police Statistics Bureau issued daily shows that there were sixteen robberies between November 1 and November 21, last year, as compared with the total of sixty-five for the same period this year.

EVERYONE SATISFIED BUT CABIAL

He Must Put Up $1,500 or Remain in Jail Pending Jury's Verdict on Auto-Theft Charge, Following Court Scene in Which Interpreter Plays Stellar Role

When Cabial Quijada, 18-year-old Spanish youth, appeared before Municipal Judge Baird for preliminary hearing on a charge of having stolen an expensive automobile from Mrs. Josephine Nacostro, Italian matron residing at 1009 East Foresthill Avenue, he precipitated a linguistic situation that for a moment threatened progress of the court.

But it was all straightened out when Justice Minnie Pontrelli, county court interpreter, appeared on the court in English.

Necessarily the hearing occupied more time than was eventually concluded to the satisfaction of all but the defendant, who was ordered held for trial in Superior Court under bail of $1,500.

Townsend of 1007½ North Main Avenue and Mrs. Mabel Funk, who told police they were held up by two bandits while sitting in an automobile in Lafayette Park Place and robbed them of $10; Eddie L. Jones, 20, West Portola Street, and Fritz Amorge of 6221 Brynethurst street, who reported three bandits held them up in front of Miss Vogel's home at 202 North Park View street. John Musumah reported he lost $20 to two bandits as he was parking his car near the curb in front of his residence at 2431 Bellview street.

W. J. Boles reported he was held up by two armed bandits in front of his home at 2207 South Maple Avenue and robbed of $10.

COAST SEEN AS CENTER FOR TEXTILE

Removal of Wool Plants West Held Inevitable by Trade Representative

Unprecedented industrial activity and growth on the Pacific Coast in the immediate future are the prediction of George E. Duffy of Worcester, Mass., head of a group of woolen, hosiery, corset and textile machine manufacturing concerns, who is in Los Angeles on a business visit to the local headquarters of the Bon Ton and Royal Worcester Corset Company.

"Tremendous water power, the presence of raw materials and the facilities for shipping make a great development inevitable," said Mr. Duffy.

He sees no reason why the West cannot be a major center, chiefly because the special type of skilled labor required to operate the intricate, almost human machines used in the textile industry can be found in every part of the world. Your people are an out-door type, largely interested in agricultural pursuits."

Eventually, though, he sees the removal of the textile manufacturing plants to this section where the wool is grown, even as cotton manufacturing plants have taken a southern trend.

Ever a student of economics and labor problems, Mr. Duffy took issue with Henry Ford on the latter's five-day-a-week schedule. He branded such a policy as "economically unwise" and believed management would use the extra day extravagantly—not practically.

He sees a lack of thrift as American business habits. "The employer of great masses of people can realize how large a percentage are only a few days' pay away from actual want in case of illness or misfortune," he declared.

Traffic Tied in Knot When Car Hits Pole

Charles Baumbaugh spent last night in the City Jail accused of driving an automobile while intoxicated. Today he probably will be surprised to learn that he tied traffic up for half an hour into one of the tightest jams Glendale Boulevard ever has known.

In the course of his somewhat erratic motoring Baumbaugh, according to the police, piled his machine into a power-line pole. The huge stick snapped at the base and crashed across Glendale Boulevard in the dark, causing a wild tangle of twisted mass of high-tension wires. Officer Lukomski then carried Baumbaugh to Receiving Hospital for a somewhat twisted explanation of his driving.

Meantime automobiles swept up to Baumbaugh's barricade from the north and the south and stopped with squealing brakes. In behind in two constantly-growing streams until Glendale Boulevard was a black jam of packed traffic two miles long. The power line fell again. Half an hour passed before the obstruction could be removed and the flow of traffic restored to normal.

Baumbaugh is 45 years of age and lives at 546 Portion street, Glendale.

Telephone Homes

Buy Two-Thirds of the Advertised Goods

To advertisers, to distributors, and to everyone engaged in selling advertised articles, including the man at the retail counter, the telephone home is different from all other homes. It is a home that demands the comforts and conveniences of life, that can afford more than the bare necessities, that is keenly alive to progress and to new ideas.

These telephone homes—a little more than a third of all the American homes—actually buy two-thirds of the advertised goods. It is a simple fact—but one of immense importance to advertisers and sales executives—that the Literary Digest has more telephone subscribers among its regular readers than any other great magazine in the country!

In gaining acceptance for a product and maintaining steady sales, the Digest telephone homes are the most important in the country to an advertiser. Their continued patronage is the best business insurance you can have. The more intelligent the buyers, the more loyal—because they are not only loyal to a product but to their own judgment as well. They lead—others follow.

A Million Telephone Homes in the Digest Circulation of 1,400,000

There are two reasons for the Digest's enormous circulation in alert telephone homes. Both are of equal importance to advertisers.

First; the character of the Digest itself, which draws to it only persons who take an active interest in world affairs. From the intrigues of diplomacy to the news of the sporting world, through every activity in science, exploration, art, religion, humor and politics the Digest reports the intelligent opinion of the world press, opinion on both sides, gathered from more than 5,000 newspapers and periodicals.

Second; we have used only advertising to obtain new readers. We employ no canvassers. Our readers would not be readers to-day if they had not proved their responsiveness to printed advertising by responding to our own advertising matter. Thus the Digest readers are the tested best from the telephone homes—those whose alertness to new suggestions has been established. The advertiser who speaks to them through the pages of the Digest is gaining and maintaining for his product the acceptance and the good will of the most alert section of the telephone market.

Olive-Street Proposal to be Given Board

Pacific Electric Seeking Permit to Build

Marsh Says Alterations Will Aid Service

The application of the Pacific Electric Railway Company for a twenty-one year franchise to build and operate an Olive-street entrance to the subway Terminal Building will be up before the Board of Public Utilities tomorrow morning.

In a lengthened written report covering the entire situation, General Manager Marsh of the board's engineering staff will recommend that the project be granted and referred to the City Council for final action.

The report points out that the Olive-street entrance is necessary to serve the large hotel and apartment house district adjacent to Fifth and Olive streets.

The proposed pedestrian concourse and subway is to be built in a portion of the sidewalk and under a portion of the street. The entrance itself will be near the Temple Auditorium exit. The curb at the entrance will be extended in to the street to leave eight feet for a sidewalk between the present line and the Olive-street entrance.

Persons using this entrance will have direct access to the west beach lines leaving from the surface tracks south of the terminal building and the desired school data will be mailed to you.

Girls' Athletic Club disapproves of beauty contests but beauty is the aim of their calisthenics, although those above don't seem to have far to go in the race for pulchritude. They are, left to right, Odelle de Ville, Helen Cox, Caroline Lee, Joy Lynn and Thelma Peairs.

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
ANTA MONICA, Nov. 21.—Female athletes of the Girls' Athletic Club like music with their 100-yard dashes, discuss shows and broad jumps. Mrs. Earl W. Fraser of Santa Monica, president of the organization which has been launched to develop girls along the best lines in athletics, brought the idea here from Australia, where the music of the band figures in practically all sport contests.

At the Edgewater Club this afternoon, Bill West's orchestra played music which the athletes went through preliminary tryouts in many events. Sorority girls from the colleges, business women and girls who were prominent in the music picture business are shown to keep interest in the new club, Mrs. Fraser said. Arrangements are being made for a junior section, for the athletic training of girls of 12 to 16 years of age.

The best athletes among the members are being picked to figure in the preliminary trials of which this was the first. Special coaching will be given in all branches of sport, Mrs. Fraser stated. Ball teams of all varieties, with the possible exception of baseball, are being formed, and the basketball team this winter is expected to be one of the best in Southern California. Present indications are that some of the club members are proving a valuable source for entry in the coming Cata-

"One thing we positively will not go in for," Mrs. Fraser declared, "is anything beauty contests. This is an athletic club, and the beauty of health and wholesome exercise is what we are cultivating."

PROGRAM FOR MASON'S

RUM-PILOT PLEASE DUE FOR TODAY

Fifteen to be Arraigned on Indictments Charging Aid to Bootleggers

The Federal government today for the sixth time within as many years will bring before the bar of justice defendants charged with conspiring to violate the National Prohibition Act by unlawfully smuggling in rum.

Indictments are shown to be issued by the prosecution, which is directed by the United States attorney, that are to be heard for a number of fifteen, several of whom are heads of families, and others are employees. They were indicted on the 10th inst. by the United States grand jury on evidence gathered by the National Prohibition administrator in charge of prohibition enforcement in Southern California and Arizona, and his chief aide, Robert M. Morris.

An investigation by the dry officers ended in the indictment of W. J. Latchford, wealthy head of the Latchford Glass Company at 7419 South Rosecrans Avenue, Los Angeles. Dr. Joseph G. John Corrigan, Dr. Casino, Frank Vitale, Jake Pato, Chester Erikson, W. A. Gerard, Harry Cohen, A. L. Doudy, Joseph G. Martin, George W. Johnson, James A. Love and G. S. Clark.

The fifteen defendants are scheduled to appear before United States District Judge Henry H. Ladd at 2 o'clock, when their defense attorneys are believed to have settled on the points that irrespective of where their bottles, corks and hydrometers went, or to what purpose they were put, the dry law was not violated by their sale.

SIX KILLED IN AUTO CRASHES

summoned to the scene carried Hattie Dalton to the Community Hospital, failing to reach the community hospital.

Attending physicians reported that all of the trio were suffering from internal fractures of the skull and internal injuries, and that the Italian twins are in a critical condition.

DEATH CAR DRIVEN

Johnny Walker, one of the dead, was driving the car when the mishap occurred on a level stretch near the Heilman ranch, two miles east of town. Daniels suffered a broken back when he was crushed against the windshield of a car driven by his son-in-law, Dr. Frank Sparks, residing at the Nottingham Apartments. The car ran into another machine at the corner of South Western avenue and Ninety-fourth Street.

Pars was arrested when Detective Lieutenant Davis and Officer Hines declared that he had driven away from the scene of the accident without waiting to ascertain the extent of Fara's injuries.

According to the officers reported, that he knew he had struck Fara but did not think at the time that he was hurt.

Pars died on the way to the Reciting Hospital. His body was taken to the County Morgue.

SOLKO CRASH

The crash in which Solko met death was at Ventura and Sepulveda Boulevards. Solko died soon after arriving at the Van Nuys Emergency Hospital. Mrs. Josephine Solko suffered internal injuries and a broken wrist, and was taken to the General Hospital; her condition this critical. Jones is a rancher and Venturia representative of the Hauser Packing Company. Solko's body was taken to the Elmore undertaking room.

The car was driving north on Western avenue and J. E. Sullivan of Colusa was approaching from the north. An excavation prompted both drivers to turn from their paths and a head-on collision was narrowly averted. The cars scraped against each other.

Chief Police Surgeon Goodrich said Mr. Walker's injuries were aggravated by the fact that he was trying to receive the Reciting Hospital in a private car instead of awaiting the arrival of the police ambulance. The injured man's condition was reported as grave. Dr. John Weller, a specialist, was called in for consultation.

Detective Lieutenants Mahoney and Kling are investigating. The girl is said to have given a good description of her assailant.

TRIUMPH SCORED BY A CAPPELLA CHOIR

Small Group Heard in Excellent Program at Philharmonic

A rare musical treat long anticipated by Los Angeles music-lovers was realized Friday night, when John Smallman, leader of a Capital Chorus, consisted of Vera Barstow, violinist, and the boys' choir from Robert Louis Stevenson Junior High School, directed by Miss Alice Sturdy, in a concert at the Philharmonic Auditorium.

An exceptionally enthusiastic audience filled the large concert hall to capacity, and rounds of appreciative applause greeted the finale of each number.

The program chosen by Mr. Smallman for the recital ranged from the themes of the ancient hymns of church and cathedral to the light and gay strains of our own "Alice the Rider," "Beverly Bear," etc. In every case the choir adapted itself to the selection sung.

The exquisite blending of the voices, the clearness of the choral coloring and shading, the excellent tone qualities obtained in every case made the recital one long to be remembered by the audience.

Of particular note was the program was "Qui s'y froit a pique," Bach's "Be Not Afraid" (Motet) for doubled chorus and choral boy's voices were the other splendid numbers in the program.

Choir members' "Praise to the Lord, Jesus," and Bach's "Qui s'y froit a pique," Vera Barstow, well-known Los Angeles violinist, accompanied by Mrs. Guy Bush, was also received by rounds of applause. Miss Barstow gave an excellent performance in the rendition of both of her groups, displaying mastery of technique and a rare fineness of tone.

Adding much to the program with their enthusiasm and inherent enthusiasm, was the boys' choir from Robert Louis Stevenson Junior High School. In their picturesque white suits, off by a dash, red tie, the young boys, an excellent representation of both of their groups, displayed a fine mastery of technique and a rare fineness of tone.

Dr. E. B. Ryland, secretary of the First Baptist Church, Los Angeles, spoke at the morning service, while the evening sermon was delivered by Dr. Birney S. Hudson, pastor of Temple Baptist Church. Rev. Rufus Morris, assistant pastor of the newly completed church.

Selections by the choir of the First Baptist Church of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Gentry, Leslie Thomas and La Monte Connell, the musical phase of the afternoon service. The invocation was offered by Dr. E. B. Pratt, acting pastor of the First Baptist Church of Hollywood.

The value of the new church, on which it has been erected, the cost of which is estimated at $100,000. The church's auditorium seats 500 persons.

The value of the new church, on which it has been erected, the cost of which is estimated at $100,000. The church's auditorium seats 500 persons.

Benefit Dance Boxes Sold in Speedy Auction

An auction that lasted only ten minutes produced $3000 for the Benefit Sheltering and Home for the Aged at the Biltmore Saturday. The auction was that of boxes for the stage-and-screen ball scheduled for December 4 at the Shrine Auditorium. George Sydney was the auctioneer, with Nat Farnum as his assistant.

Two orchestras supplied music for the benefit, and dancing was lively. Benjamin Platt of the Platt Music Company, and Barnett Rosenberg, chairman of the committee in charge of the sale, made the arrangements for the sale.

Proceeds of the ball are to be used for improvements at the home, which is at 325 South Boyle Avenue, and is expected to be ready January 1, when the home becomes a member of the Community Chest.

Help drove his car into a fire hydrant at Tenino street and Gladys avenue, breaking the main line of water below the ground. The car stopped directly over the hole, and a column of water roared upward with a terrific roar. The driver, George Murphy, finally hauled the happy motorist from his shower bath and took him to headquarters. There he stated that his home is at 1324 Raymond avenue, and that he is an operative in a woman's beauty shop.
